Office Seekers Are Still Filing.

(A. N. P. Service)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., June 17.—The entry of "Dynamite" Ed Perry into the race for the Republican nomination for United States Senator and the filing of T. F. Wilson, Democrat, of Coalgate, for corporation commissioner, brought two unique characters into the primary fight. Perry was one of the best known territorial G. O. P. leaders and Wilson was barely headed by John A. Whitehurst in the 1918 primary campaign for president of the state board of agriculture. Wilson did not spend a cent in his campaign and the similarity of his name with that of R. H. Wilson, state superintendent of schools, was believed to have brought him thousands of votes. Wilson is a Seventh Day Adventist preacher who has never been importantly identified with the Democratic party. J. B. Simpson, publisher of the Calera News, also filed as a Democratic candidate for corporation commissioner. In addition, R. E. Echols, of Elk City, member of the Commission, Oscar R. Thraves and Warren P. Gill, Democrats, have also filed. There are four Republicans in this contest: Amos Ewing, Guthrie; C. W. Ludwick, Ft. Cobb; E. R. Hughes, Oklahoma City and Ed Ambler, Chandler. S. C. Thompson, Roll, Socialist, also has filed. Four Democrats, Roy E. Stafford, formerly editor of the Oklahoman, and William M. Franklin, of Oklahoma City; F. B. Swank, of Norman and C. D. Webster, a farmer who lives near Moore, and two Republicans, J. W. Harrell, present incumbent, and Edward E. Reardon, both of Oklahoma City, have filed as candidates for congress from the Fifth, Oklahoma District.

State Guards Arrive to Prevent Further Disturbance.

(By The United Press.) DULUTH, Minn., June 16.—Two companies of state guards arrived here early today were expected to prevent further race troubles following a night in which a mob of 5,000 lynched three Negroes held in connection with an attack on a 17-year-old white girl. The city is again quiet.

LIBERIA WANTS AMERICAN NEGROES

A farm of twenty-five acres of fine land is given by the Liberian Government to every Negro immigrant from America, according to Dr. John H. Reed, of Monrovia, Liberia, now in this country. On this land abundant crops of coffee, sweet potatoes, rice, wheat, cocoa, or rubber can be raised, and there are good markets for them when harvested. "Unlimited opportunity for progress is what the American Negro seems to want," said Dr. Reed, "and he can find it in Liberia. I found it so, and so will every other colored man who goes there and does his part. Liberia needs American Negroes and American Negroes need Liberia."

Dr. Reed was born in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, and graduated from New Orleans University. He went to Liberia as a missionary for the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1905. He was soon made president of the College of West Africa maintained in Monrovia by American Methodists. He succeeded the late Bishop A. P. Camphor in that office. He was also editor of Liberia and West Africa, a publication devoted to the religious life of Liberia.

In 1914 Dr. Reed took out his citizenship papers in Liberia, and was soon appointed Principal of Donovan Institute under the Liberian Government. He has made five trips to this country since first leaving it. Dr. Reed was ministerial delegate to the Methodist Episcopal
